From Mrs Busari

The children had a great first week back and have started their new topic learning. This week you will receive the topic webs which show the learning planned in each subject for term 5 and 6. The children have a history topic this term and a geography topic next half term, which is slightly different to how we have done it before. This way it really allows the children to focus on that one particular subject and the skills needed to be a historian or a geographer.

We are currently looking at the format for our end of year reports this year to ensure that it is a personalised document which reflects your child's year in school. If any parents have any views on what you like to see included in reports and what you find not so useful, please share this with us. We want to produce a document which is both informative and also personalised to your child. Any feedback is welcomed.

Over the next two weeks the NEU have two further strike dates set for Thursday 27th April and Tuesday 2nd May. Currently the indication is that Ashton will remain open as usual. If this changes at all, I will let you know as soon as I can.

We have the two bank holiday weekends coming up, which I am sure many of you are looking forward to. Just a reminder that we sent an email last week about a Coronation Picnic on the playground on Friday 5th May from 12.30pm, if the weather is dry, for those parents and families who would like to attend.

I hope that you all have a lovely week in school. I am out quite a bit this week at meetings, but will be here on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

With best wishes

Jude Busari
