From Mrs Busari

The Juniors had an amazing trip to Neasden temple last Thursday. They learnt all about the building of the Mandir and the history of the temple. They also observed the Arti Ceremony and visited the exhibition. We were made to feel so welcome. The people at the temple were keen to let the children know that if they wanted to bring parents to visit, the temple is open for public visits on Saturdays. If you would like more information about this, please let us know and we will be happy to share it.

This week on Thursday it is World Book Day. The children are invited to come into school in a costume or their pyjamas to celebrate bedtime stories. Parents are welcome to stay for the assembly first thing in the morning when the children who are in costumes can show them off. Following on from the assembly, we will have the chance to listen to some stories read by the adults in school.

Finally, some staffing news for you all. You will be delighted to hear that next week Mrs McGlade will be coming back to Ashton from maternity leave. She will be teaching in the Infants on Thursdays and Fridays. Mrs McGlade will be staying with us until 26th April, which will be her last day. After this she will leave her post to spend more time at home with Edward whilst he is young. Mrs Wilson will then continue to teach full time for the remainder of the school year. We will update you further when we have more news. I am sure you will all be pleased to see Mrs McGlade back at Ashton.

I hope that you all have a lovely week in school,

With best wishes,

Jude Busari
